A BOON TO THE SICK?

The want of a sterling medicinal to me the ills & necessities of the suffering portion of hulianity, and one entirely free from mineral find only, and one entirely free-from mineral and other deleterious particles, was severely left till this lat power ful node one was usincred. Which cannot be surpassed in Taste and Beauty Cortassorting thin world; Holloway's invaluate of thousands of articles, we shall consequently only mention some of this feeding ceall mations. Their attribute is to prevent as well as to cure; they attack the radix or root of the complaint, and thus by removing the hidden cause of disease remyigorate & restore the drooping energies of the system, assisting nature in her task of vital & functionary re-

DYSPEPSIA. The great scourge of this continent yields quickly to a course of those antiseptic Pdls & the digestive organs are restored to their proper tone; no matter in what hideons shape this hydra of disease exhibits itself, this searching and uncerting remedy dispenses it from the parameter section.

GENERAL DEBILITY & WEAKNESS From whatever cause, lowness of spirits. & all other signs of a diseased liver, & other dis-organization of the system, vanish under the endicating influence of this all powerful antiseptic and detergent remedy. BILIOUS DISORDERS. The proper quantum and right condition of the bile is of momentons importance to the health of the human frame, this anti-bilious medicine expels the hidden seeds of the com-plaint, and tenders all the fluids & secretions pure and fluent, cleansing and resustating the vital functions of the body.

SICKLY FEMALES. Should lose no time in trying a few doses of this regulating and renovating acmedy, what-ever may be their complaint, it can be taken with safety in all periodical and other disorganizations its effects is all but miraculous.

POBIEW. A PRAYER FOR A DYING CHILD.

BY MINNIE WARY LEE. Since I cannot save thee, darling Since my vearning prayer is vain While my beart so bleeding broken, Pours o'er thee its tearful rain, Bends my soul before the alter Of the Father's golden throne, Praying, O. with tones that falter. For some soul to guide thine own.

Through the dark and shadowy valley, O'er the river chill and wild, Up the starry steeps of soul-land, Thou wouldst fear and faint my chi Thou so young, and mild, and tender, Full of tears when Mamma's gone. How couldst bear the radiant splendor That at last should o'er thee dawn?

Send some spirit. Father holy. Down to guide my fainting dove: There is one among thine angels, Who was once my child of love Like his eyes so blue and wondrous Are the eyes of dying Grace: Browned hair like his and golden Falls around her pallid face.

Shall not he, with gentle coming, Fold his wing beside her bed, Clasp her soul to his so saintly. Ere we call our blossom dead? Ah methinks I feel the presence-Now I how me to the rod: Oh give pardon for my sorrow That my darlings are with God.

(From the Dublin University Magazine) THE EARLY DEAD. BY MRS, LENOX CONYNGHAM. We'buried her while morning's light Was stealing o'er the sky Ere yet the tears of dewy night
